Narrator: Please take a moment to read the Faculty Pledge.

FACET 1: CARE GEM

Narrator: At Chamberlain, we commit our hearts, hands, and minds to educating.

FACET 2: Our Curricula

Narrator: We integrate Chamberlain Care and the comprehensive pedagogy of Master Instruction into the curricula of all programs. This includes concepts and competencies for development of self-care practices to promote and advance individual health, as well as the health of others. Through a variety of evidence-based methodologies we teach self-care as a professional imperative for developing the capacity to care for others and promoting self-care for patients.

We believe that Chamberlain Care ensures that our graduates are not only well prepared to serve, but motivated by the finest impulse of humanity-to care for others, even those different from themselves.

FACET 3: Our Culture of Care

Narrator: At Chamberlain, teaching excellence involves creating and sustaining transformational change in teaching practices that results from working together. Our culture of Chamberlain Care unites faculty, leaders, and students in a collaborative vision with our strategic direction to achieve educational transformation, enhancing the academic experience and learning outcomes of our students.

We firmly believe that living Chamberlain Care everyday enables our students to be successful.

FACET 4: Our Faculty Resources

What if a Nursing College... video – Transcript coming soon.

Narrator: Just as we extend care to our students, we also champion care for you, our faculty, by providing a full assortment of resources to deliver a genuinely distinctive educational experience. The Essential Guide for New Faculty Success is your foundation for teaching excellence at Chamberlain. Additional resources are available at the Center for Faculty Excellence faculty portal. This dedicated web page provides accessibility to extensive resources, as well as links to valuable information for faculty across all of our programs. Your contributions can and will shape the future of nursing education, leaving a Chamberlain footprint on the global transformation of professional nursing practice. Thank you for becoming a Chamberlain nurse educator!
